Mobile videographer and content creator passionate about turning moments into visually compelling stories.

Introduction

About Me

Hi, I'm Emanuella — a mobile videographer and lifestyle creator. What started as filming everyday moments on my phone has become a passion for storytelling. I love turning simple scenes into visuals that feel alive, emotional, and worth sharing.

As a mobile videographer, I help brands and creators tell their stories through impactful, short-form, authentic, and visually engaging videos. From lifestyle and travel to food and brand moments, I create scroll-stopping visuals that speak your audience's language and inspire real connection.

My mission is to create meaningful, story-driven visuals that capture real emotion and everyday beauty. Through mobile videography, I help brands and individuals share their stories in a way that feels personal, relatable, and emotionally engaging. I'm committed to showing that powerful storytelling simply requires intention, creativity, and a clear vision behind the lens.
